- 11. Termination for Cause: The Parties agree and acknowledge that this Contract constitutes a contract of employment for a term specific and is only terminable at the end of its term or "for cause", as set forth herein. Cause for termination of this Contract, with no penalty, Severance Payment or cost to the BEDC, will occur in the event that the Board of Directors reasonably determines that the Employee has failed to perform up to the standards of the BEDC, as documented by a written performance evaluation done by the Board as set forth herein and provided to the Employee, or has engaged in one or more of the following acts of misconduct:

- 12. No Cause Termination and Severance Payment for Same. In the event that the BEDC desires to terminate the employment of Employee, for any reason other than the 'for cause' reasons stated herein above, or for no reason, the Parties agree that the BEDC shall be required to pay the Employee, as severance compensation and upon Employee's compliance with Section 16 of this Contract, an amount equal to six months of the Employee's then current gross annual salary and pays monthly insurance premiums for six (6) months, less deductions, withholding and taxes (the "Severance Payment"). Confidentiality Provision. The Parties acknowledge and agree that certain information and documentation obtained or developed by the BEDC related to its economic development opportunities (including, but not limited to confidential business information that may be provided to the BEDC by various business prospects that enter into discussions with the BEDC) may involve or contain the confidential, propriety business information of the prospect(s), individuals and/or the BEDC. Therefore, the Parties agree that they shall not disclose any such confidential and/or proprietary information to any third-party without the express written authority to do so, unless otherwise required by law or court order.

Nothing in this Section shall limit the ability of the Employee to engage consultants in the future that he may have used during his tenure as Executive Director of the BEDC. The Parties agree that the loss arising from a breach or threatened breach of this provision cannot reasonably and adequately be compensated by money damages and will cause irreparable harm to the BEDC, for which a remedy at law would be inadequate. Accordingly, the Parties hereby agree that the Party harmed by the breach shall be entitled to injunctive or other extraordinary relief in case of any such breach or threatened breach without the necessity of proving irreparable harm or inadequacy of legal remedies of the posting of a bond or other security therefore, which shall, however, in no way limit any other rights, including the recovery of damages, which the Party may have at law or in equity.
- 15. Final Report upon Cessation of Employment: At the time Employee's employment by the BEDC ends, whether by expiration or termination, the Employee shall provide the Board with a detailed written report setting forth up-to-date details concerning the business of the BEDC, specifically including information on any existing prospects, projects, proposal, contracts, etc. In addition, at cessation of employment, the Employee agrees and shall be contractually bound not to contact, directly or indirectly, any economic development prospect or project contact identified in the Final Report, for a period of one- year from date of cessation of employment with the BEDC.
